

FUTUREX

A GLOBAL LEADER IN DATA
ENCRYPTION SOLUTIONS

OUR MISSION

Futurex's mission is to be the leading provider of cryptographic solutions in the world. We strive to enhance transaction speeds, embrace new technologies and establish innovative standards within our industry. We have an unyielding commitment to excellence, by maintaining high performance standards, providing Xceptional Support and best-in-class product solutions. Our goal is to increase market share each year by expanding our product mix and enhancing the profitability of our business partners.

OUR STORY

For more than 28 years, Futurex has been a globally recognized leader in providing data encryption solutions for financial networks, banks, credit unions and retail customers. More than 15,000 financial institutions, retailers and merchant service providers have used Futurex products to protect their highly sensitive financial transactions.

Originally located in California for nearly 25 years, Futurex was acquired from Comcast Cable in 2001 by Mr. Brett Smith, a financial services and electronic payments industry veteran. His keen sense of leadership and industry experience has helped turn Futurex into a highly respected, result-oriented, data encryption solutions provider. Our success comes from the dedication to providing world-class Xceptional Support, best-in-class technology and cost-effective solutions to our customers. Growing on this success, our products and services are continuously expanding to deliver innovative solutions to meet the growing business needs of our global customers.

Futurex has partnerships with Fortune 500 companies in the retail and financial transaction industry, thereby allowing us to integrate into various data transaction networks.

Moving forward, Futurex will continue to be a global corporate leader in the data security and electronic payments industry.

OUR CORPORATE CULTURE

Pride. Passion. Integrity.—These three words truly describe our team members and are fully embodied in each one of them. At Futurex you will always meet team members who believe in delivering best-in-class products and Xceptional Support because we know who we are doing it for... the customer.

Family Environment—Once you are at Futurex, you are welcomed and treated like family. You'll notice that our "small family" is a well diverse group of individuals that are energetic, high paced and fun all at the same time.

Corporate Campus Setting—Our 14-acre scenic campus is set in the beautiful Texas Hill Country town of Bulverde, just 20 minutes north of San Antonio. While on the campus, you can take a break by enjoying various amenities such as a half-mile nature walk trail, a tennis court and even a putting green.
